PROTECTION

There can be many reasons why your customer cannot pay you. Unforeseen trade disruptions can include buyer insolvency, protracted default (failure to meet obligations on time) due to inadequate cash flow, or political disruptions that lead to a loss on current receivables. When your customer cannot pay you your Receivables Insurance coverage can.

YOUR COMPANY'S RECEIVABLES DESERVE PROTECTION FROM TRADE DISRUPTIONS AND POLITICAL UPSET.

BENEFITS

Receivables insurance policy coverage can trigger more favourable finance rates and/or increase the percentage of financing on a receivables loan — allowing your business to grow sales faster. Receivables insurance can also help your business establish higher lines of credit for your buyers, making it easier for them to purchase more products or services from you.
